PECULIARITIES OF BEES .- The Gazette des Animaux publishes some queer facts about the sociology of bees. It appears that the monarchies of bees, well-governed as they seem to be, are afflicted nevertheless by organized criminal classes-sneak-thief and highway robbers. Some of these robber bees go in strong bands to pillage and are able to storm and sack a hive. After the slaughter they carry all the provisions home. Some colonies of bees never work: they live entirely by robbery and murder. There are also sneak-thieves who creep unperceived into strange hives to steal honey. If suc-cessful they return afterward, with hordes of burglar bees break open the honey-safes, and carry away the contents. But the most curious fact is that these bees can be artificially produced, according to Buchner, by feeding the larvæ upon honey mixed with brandy. In the words of the naturalist himself: "Just as man does, the bees become victims of their love of this beverage, which exercises the same pernicious influence upon them as upon us: they become excited, drunk, and cease to work. When hunger comes upon them they fall, like man, from one vice into another: and finally give themselves up without scruple to robbery.
